

Tuscan Cookery

Learn from the people who train professional Chefs

On visiting Tuscany many moons ago I have always a soft spot for this place, I am not sure why, because of its beauty, or its simple unadulterated outlook on food and life.

Tuscan cooking is considered to be an art form where all of the ingredients come together. There's no heavy sauces, which lets the true flavour of the foods come through to be enjoyed in their purest form, this is Tuscan Cookery.

Let us take you on a journey to this fantastic place, with H4 hospitality I will recreate some fantastic dishes that I have had there.

Then after we have produced some fantastic items we sit relax with a drink and enjoy, because life is too short!
